

About Life Changing Moment

My name is Mary Ancillette and I pioneered this new concept. It is a forerunner to a much vaster subject; however for the purpose of preparing the ground work I submit this new approach to elicit excitement and hope amongst many followers who believe in a totally caring and free society.

There are many angles we can approach this from and I hope that the various directions and support we offer will aid you to a more fulfilling and spiritually enlightened way to live. I have over the years perceived such a moment as this, where we can all make a difference to the society we belong in, aiding governments alike to appreciate that we need and want a better environment to live in.

The time has come where we need to believe in ourselves, each one of us, as a worthy and important being in this world of ever increasing depravity and disenchantment. Take the challenge, prepare to be seen as a leader in your own life and raise awareness to the ever nonchalant cries the lack of morality brings upon us.
